

Trademarks in Cambodia

- Filing a trademark in Cambodia is relatively straightforward and although multi-class applications are now allowed since Cambodia joined Madrid Protocol in June 2015, we do not recommend filing multi-class application because it takes longer to examine multi-class applications and if one class is refused, the entire application is delayed.
- The application is filed with the Cambodian IP Office and our professional fees for filing a trademark in one class would be less than US$350. We offer discounts on a case by case basis.
- The average time taken to obtain registration of a trademark is 8 to 10 months, with the opposition period being 90 days from the date of publication.
- The Cambodian IP Office may object to a trademark application for being non-distinctive, descriptive or even for being confusingly similar to another prior trademark. Sometimes, you may face objections to your goods or services applied for.
- If you face objections (i.e. office actions), then you have option of the overcoming these objections by filing a response with the Cambodian IP Office. For responding to office actions, we charge on a flat-fee basis rather than hourly rates. We would be happy to provide you with our preliminary assessment and quote upon request.
- The chances of success in overcoming any objections depends on the merits of each case.
- Cambodia adopts a “first to file” system so to protect your rights against potential infringers, or copycats, we recommend you file your application as quickly as possible.
- Before embarking on any trademark application, engage us conduct a trademark search on the Registry’s records to ascertain if your trademark is registrable and whether there are any confusingly similar marks that may block your trademark registration.
